THE INDIAN MESSIAH

Prophet Co-we-jo Predicts His Coming Next Spring.

WILD BELIEF OF THE INDIANS.

They Are Looking for Their Great Messiah to Appear on Mount Grant, Nevada, Which the Indians Claim Is Marked by the Footprints of Numerna, Their First Father.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Indian prophet appears to have been located at last. His name is Capt. Jack Wilson, and he, sojourns at present in Nevada. He is an Indian, and his Indian name is Co-we-jo. This information is furnished to the department by a citizen of Elko, Nev., named John S. Mayhugh. It is probable that other prophets will turn up elsewhere, but Mr. Mayhugh thinks the one which he recommends to the consideration of the department is really causing all the trouble among the Indians. This is what Mr. Mayhugh says:

ELKO, Nev., Nov. 24, 1890
Hon. T. J. Morgan, Commissioner of Indian Affairs:

Sir—I have the honor to address you this communication in the best interest of the Indians, and from the further fact I have noticed in quite a number of the newspapers of the day statements in relation to the present semi-religious Indian excitement as to the coming of the Indian Messiah, and the present residence of the prophet and the point where the Messiah is to appear.

While special census agent of Indians for Nevada, I learned of the whereabouts of this prophet, and I deem it not inappropriate for me to address your office upon this, and state briefly a few facts that came under my observation.

First—It is true that most of the Indians are believers in the coming of the Messiah early in the spring.

The prophet resides in Mason valley, Esmeralda county, Nev., close to the Walker river reservation. His name is not Johnson Sides, at Reno, but Capt. Jack Wilson, known among all Indians by the Indian names of We-vo-ka, and also Co-we-jo, an intelligent, fine-looking Indian of about 35 years of age, who goes into trances, or seemingly so, from twelve to fourteen hours in the presence of large numbers of Indians upon invitation of the prophet. Upon his recovery he relates to them what he has seen. He tells them that he has been to heaven and that the Messiah is coming to the earth again and will put the Indians in possession of this country; that he has seen in heaven a heap of Indians, some of which are dressed in white men's clothes; he counsels the Indians not to disturb the white folks, saying that the blanket, or rabbit skin, that was put over the moon by the Indians long ago will soon fall off and then the moon, which is now a fire, will destroy the whites.

The Messiah is to appear on Mount Grant, which is a very large mountain and is situated about sixteen miles south of the Walker river agency buildings, and on the west side of the lake. Here is where the first Indians appeared, according to their belief.

I visited this mountain last September in performance of my duty as special census agent of Indians. This mountain is held as a sacred mountain to the Indians, and on top they allege they can see footprints of their first father, Numerna. If I may be permitted to suggest I would recommend that all the Indians be permitted to visit this mountain, as I am satisfied they will only send delegations from each tribe for the purpose of ascertaining the truth of the prophecy.

The Indians of Nevada expect delegations from most of the tribes north and northeast, and Sitting Bull is expected. The only fear the Nevada Indians have is that the government will interfere with troops. I think if the Indians are let alone at the various agencies the whole thing will die away. All of the Indians here do not believe in the prophet, although Josephus, the chief of Walker lake, thinks maybe Co-we-jo is a prophet, for the reason that he went twice to this prophet to consult about water, as if "no rain and Walker river nearly dry up," and upon each occasion the prophet predicted rain, which really came and saved their crops, hence their belief in this prophet.

Capt. Dave, of the Nevada agency, and Josephus, of Walker river, are better posted upon this Indian craze than any other Indians in Nevada. They are truthful, intelligent and reliable, and would very much like to see their big chief the commissioner. Capt. Dave was very anxious to see you at the time of your late visit to the Nevada agency in Nevada, but he never knew of your coming until you had gone, as Agent Sears did not tell him of your presence. Outside of this present religious craze these Indians could give your office a great deal of information the way things are managed at the Nevada and Walker river agencies that are not always learned by United States inspectors of a few days' visit; no odds how good and vigilant the inspector may be.

Would it not be a good idea to endeavor to get this prophet Co-we-jo with these Indians to visit Washington. It might have a tendency to quiet this craze, if the visit is held out to him, as one of business not relating to the excitement or to interfere with his prophecies. Yours, very respectfully,

JOHN S. MAYHUGH.

It is not probable that the department will act upon Mr. Mayhugh's suggestion. The Messiah would not find a congenial atmosphere in Washington, and it is doubtful if any particular good would result from his visit here. The order of some days ago will be carried out, unless the ghost-dances stop at once, and Sitting Bull and the other obstinate leaders will be arrested. It is now believed that all danger is past; if there ever has been any—and doubtless the best thing to do would be to let the Indians alone. But the great excitement that has been worked up in the northwest will not subside until the reservations are fully occupied by troops and some of the Indians put in jail.

Sitting Bull will no doubt be the first victim, and since he is generally looked upon as a bad Indian the Dakota people will approve his arrest and confinement. It is probable that he as well as the rest of the Indians are worse scared than the whites since the invasion of the military and the ghost-dancers will be most willing to abandon all religious manifestations if they can only be assured that they are not all to be hanged and quartered.

Gen. Miles has arrived here to confer with the department officials regarding the situation. He may be able to throw some light on the real cause of the present agitation and to inform the government authorities whether somebody has not taken advantage of a religious craze among the Indians, in which there was originally no sign nor idea of war, to accomplish some ulterior purpose.

When the Indians began to show a disposition to carry things to a dangerous extreme with their dances, Maj. Gen. Miles, in command of the department of the Missouri, asked permission to come to Washington and consult with Maj. Gen. Schofield, his superior officer, and Secretary of War Proctor.

Almost immediately upon his arrival Gen. Miles called upon Gen. Schofield, and had long consultations, both at Gen. Schofield's house and at Gen. Miles' rooms at the Ebbitt house. The conference was resumed yesterday, but just what conclusions have been reached is not known yet, as Gen. Miles denies himself to reporters.

There is no doubt, however, that plans have been outlined for a decisive move against the Indians in case of necessity. It is believed that the extended consultations related less to steps to prevent an outbreak now, as everything possible has been done to this end already, than to plans of campaign in case of a general Indian war.

ALONG THE FRONTIER.

No Danger of Immediate Fighting at the Pine Ridge Agency.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. Dak., Dec. 1.—Quite a furor was occasioned here Saturday night by a report that the troops were to be sent to Wounded Knee to bring in two or three hundred lodges of Sioux Indians now encamped there. This, however, proved a false alarm. No movement of the troops was made. It is now reported that the Indians have promised to come in at once.

All talk of troops marching to disarm Indians is a sheer nonsense. They will do nothing of the sort at present, because the Indians have quietly made use of the time allowed to catch their good guns and ammunition. They would offer no objections and have staked themselves with a lot of worn out muskets and stuff for the sole purpose of being disarmed. Some of the troops will surely be at Pine Ridge all winter.

At 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon Plenty Bear, an old-time friendly Indian, who lives at Wounded Knee, twenty-five miles northeast, came in with an alarming report to Agent Royer. He states there are 264 lodges, being over 2,000 Indians at Wounded Knee and that they had resumed ghost dancing with many warlike accompaniments. He said they formed in regular war dance and were swearing vengeance on the whites.

He also says they have taken an oath to resist interference if it costs the last drop of their heart's blood. Plenty Bear witnessed the dance in person, and said that Little Wound, who visited the agency only Saturday, was among the dancers with all his band. It was further stated by Plenty Bear that their deviltry consisted of burning houses and killing settlers' stock. Great loads of recently slaughtered beef were hourly coming in last night.

Agent Gallagher was interviewed at Chadwa last night. He said he was not inclined to accept the proffered responsibility for the present trouble at Pine Ridge. He admitted that during the last days of his administration his discipline was not up to the mark, but claims the laxity was due to political machinations looking to his removal. He charged the authorities at Washington with deliberately breaking faith with the Indians and especially with violating promises made by Gen. Crook and others of the commission that negotiated the treaty of 1889.

At present the greatest difficulty lies in the short rations. Everybody but Royer now seems to court the inevitable investigation. Royer has threatened his employees with dismissal if caught by any of them against his course. While there is now no danger of fighting at Pine Ridge, the situation there is still strained on account of the agent's attitude.

The Messiah Craze Spreading.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1.—A special dispatch to The Times-Democrat from Paris, Tex., says that information has reached there that the followers of Chief Parker, of the Comanches, and Chiefs Lone Wolf and Black Bear, of Kiowas, on the Kiowa and Comanche reservations, have joined the Cheyennes and Arapahoes, and are now in full force on the Canadian river, where the ghost dance is in progress. The warriors are camped on the southern border of Oklahoma, and are estimated to number 3,000, all well armed. They have plenty of cattle. They are capable of doing much mischief and the whites are greatly alarmed. Chief Parker is believed to have recently had a conference with Sitting Bull, and on his return he began inciting his people to misconduct. The craze has also struck the Foxes and Pottawatomies, and it is thought that emissaries are now among the Creeks and Seminoles, stirring them up.

Uprising Among the Navajo Indians.

FORT WINGATE, N. M., Dec. 1.—Rumors are current here of a probable uprising among the Navajo Indians. Numerous settlers and ranchers are making inquiries into the sudden departure of the Sixth cavalry. It is attracting a number of Navajo Indians into the posts, and traders and others report them insulting and overbearing. They are holding large dances, and it is believed the Messiah craze has reached them. They are even holding their dances near the limits of the post, being led by the medicine men. The ranchers are reporting loss of cattle and horses stolen and attacks on cowboys. Gen. Carr, through his long acquaintance with Indians and his Indian policy, has held them in check, but now that the Sixth cavalry has withdrawn settlers and citizens are very apprehensive.

Troops Ordered from Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1.—A detachment of recruits from the Columbus barracks started Sunday for the scene of the Indian disturbances. Saturday Col. W. H. Jordan, commanding officer at the barracks, received a telegram from the war department instructing him to go and start every available recruit for the west. At 9 o'clock Sunday morning 103 recruits, under the command of Lieut. J. J. Haden, of the Eighth infantry, marched to the depot fully armed and equipped for field service. Their destination is Fort Niobrara, and they are to fill up the Eighth and Twenty-first infantry now in the field against the turbulent Indians.

MUST GO TO THE WORK HOUSE.

Important Decision in Regard to Conviction for Violation of the Liquor Law.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 1.—Judge Noble, of the common pleas court, has passed upon an important point of law in giving decisions on several appeals from the police court, for conviction of violators of the Sunday liquor law. In the case of Henry Benty, the point was raised that the sentence of ten days in jail was irregular, and that the statute required that persons convicted of the offense complained of should be imprisoned in the work house. Hitherto Police Justice Kelly has invariably sentenced saloonkeepers to confinement in the jail, instead of sending them to the work house.

The point has never been raised before, but Judge Hutchins, who is Benty's attorney, brought it to the attention of Judge Noble, and asked for his client's discharge, on the ground of irregularity of sentence. Judge Noble held that the point was well taken, and that the sentence was not according to law. He quoted decisions of the supreme court that bear exactly upon this point. The wording of the statute, which says that the defendant "shall" be sentenced to the work house, Judge Noble said, makes it mandatory upon Judge Kelly to send the saloon keeper to that institution. As in Benty's case there was no claim of irregularity on anything but the sentence, the defendant was remanded to the police court, so that he may be sentenced to the work house.

EXPRESS CAR ROBBED.

The Robbers Captured and Lodged in Jail.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1.—A special from Westport, Miss., says the express car on the westbound train of the Georgia Pacific was robbed near Indianola Saturday night. The robbers were captured here yesterday afternoon and placed in jail.

Saturday night as the train entered what is known as the Bogus Chittoos swamp, a large, heavy-set man with a red bandanna handkerchief over his face as a mask effected an entrance into the express car and at the point of a pistol compelled the agent to deliver his money packages. He then backed out of the car and jumped off. It happened that all the money packages with one exception were transferred at Winona for New Orleans and the robber secured but $85.

WOMEN WHIPPERS.

Man and His Wife Dragged from Bed and Brutally Beaten by White Cops.

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 1.—The community nine miles west of here is all torn up over a white capping administered to Andrew Holsapple and wife about 12 o'clock Friday night. The parties were taken from their beds to a woods near by and terribly whipped. The parties have heretofore borne a good reputation, and it is not known in what their offense consists. The man and his wife were warned to behave themselves better in the future or they would be visited again.

Four Prisoners Escape from Jail.

SOMERSET, Pa., Dec. 1.—Great excitement prevailed here all day yesterday over the escape from jail Saturday night of the four prisoners, among them the Nicely brothers, who are under sentence of death. One of the sheriff's posse, who went in pursuit of the fugitives, returned last night and reports the pursuing party on the track of the escaped prisoners. The reward for their capture has been increased to $500. Few persons have any idea that the Nicelys will allow themselves to be taken alive.

Fire Fields in Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 1.—Fire fiends were abroad Saturday night and made three desperate efforts to create fires. At 4:20 a. m. the department was called to Jacob Seide's stable, which was damaged to the extent of $20; no insurance. At 5 o'clock Coles & Schindler's stable was discovered on fire. Loss $200; no insurance. A little later George Weigand's stable and L. E. Miller's residence were fired. The damage to both buildings was small.

Dynamiters Arrested.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Dec. 1.—Deputy Sheriff Samuel Jennison Saturday evening arrested Jack Puffenberger, Fred Hodler, Wallace Phillips and James Robertson on a grand jury indictment charging them with dynamiting fish. Over 200 fine bass and German carp were taken from them, together with a quantity of dynamite and a seine. The parties gave bond for their appearance at the December term of court.

PARNELL A TORY.

Rumors That He Has Gone Over to the Other Party.

A MYSTERIOUS CONFERENCE.

Program of Parliament Arranged Between Parnell and Lord Salisbury's Cabinet—The Irish Envoys in America Decide That Parnell Shall Retire by a Vote of Five to One.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Rumors are current that Mr. Parnell has been in private consultation with two members of the Salisbury cabinet, one of them Lord Knutsford, who is known to possess the peculiar personal confidence of Lord Salisbury. Nothing is known as to the object or meaning of the consultation, but surmises are afloat, apparently countenanced by prominent Conservatives, to the effect that an understanding may be arrived at between Lord Salisbury and Mr. Parnell, the former to pass the land purchase bill, as amended in accordance with Mr. Parnell's views, and also to concede at least partial Home Rule to Ireland, in the form of provincial councils for the administration of the local affairs of the several provinces. This would be satisfactory to Ulster, and allay the strenuous opposition which Home Rule has encountered in that section of Ireland.

Mr. Gladstone and Sir William Harcourt were in conference Saturday. It is understood that Harcourt will lead the Liberal side of debate in the house of commons this week.

Considerable interest is felt in the action to be taken on Tuesday by the town council of Edinburgh, Scotland, on the motion to remove the name of Mr. Parnell from the Burgess roll of the city. It is significant that the Gladstonian-Liberal members of the council show themselves much more acrimonious than the Tories in their treatment of the case. The Liberals or a portion of them were in favor of acting on the matter off hand, without any time for consideration, and it was only at the instance of Baile Turnbull, a Tory, that the subject was put over. It is now thought that the council may find some pretext for again deferring action.

Club gossip has it that the Tory plan for taking the best advantage of the disruption of the opposition is to hastily pass the land purchase and tithes bill, and then dissolve parliament and go to the country on a platform made up of these promises: County government for Ireland, an eight hour law for miners, and a royal commission on the subject of a general eight hour law; free education.

Mr. Parnell wired invitations for his colleagues favorable to him to meet him Saturday night at the Westminster palace hotel. Twenty-four members responded. Mr. Parnell discussed his position, informed those present of his relations with the Liberal leaders, and expressed a determination to fight for the retention of his place.

A canvass of the Nationalist members yesterday showed (not counting the envoys in America) forty-eight against Parnell, twenty-four for him, and seven doubtful.

Mr. Davitt says: "I never doubted that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien would decide as they have done when the facts in the case were fully before them. It must have caused them much pain to arrive at such a decision, and its weight with the Irish people will be immense. The party has come through the ordeal with the greatest honor. I believe it will remain united and independent. Its claims to the confidence of Irishmen is stronger than ever. I cannot praise too highly the many who, at the risk of having their parliamentary career closed, stood true to Ireland in this trying circumstance. If Mr. Parnell remains in parliament hostile to the Irish party he will be an intolerable menace to their efficiency and unity. Ireland to a man will repudiate him, and Cork will do its duty. Home Rule must not be further endangered by misplaced generosity."

Archbishop Croke's telegram to Justin McCarthy is as follows: "We are all sorry for Mr. Parnell, but still, in God's name, let him retire quietly and with good grace from the leadership. If he does so, the party will remain united in honorable alliance with the Gladstonians, success at the general elections is assured, and Home Rule is certain. If he does not, the alliance will be dissolved, the elections lost, Home Rule indefinitely postponed, coercion perpetuated and the tenants hopelessly crushed."

Archbishop Walsh's Views.

DUBLIN, Dec. 1.—Archbishop Walsh's letter having been variously interpreted, a reporter sought an interview with the prelate yesterday to solicit a more definite statement of his views. He said that his letter was couched in guarded terms because Mr. Parnell had not spoken. The manifesto of Mr. Parnell now enabled the archbishop to speak more plainly, and he declared that unless Mr. Parnell clears himself of the crime of adultery, any party taking or retaining him as a leader will not find the support, co-operations or confidence of the Irish bishops. Mr. Parnell's breach of the confidence reposed in him by Mr. Gladstone is a blameable act. The archbishop said he spoke only of the moral aspect of the case, and left the political bearings of the manifesto to the Irish members.

Parnell Has a Few Friends.

CORK, Dec. 1.—Mr. Parnell was expected to arrive here at 2 o'clock this morning. The mayor and a League committee waited at the depot with an address of welcome and confidence. There was a crowd numbering fully 1,000 persons, with torches and several bands. There was great disappointment when it was learned that Mr. Parnell was not on the train. The crowd dispersed after cheering for Parnell.

CALL off the Hill boomers and Cleveland malingerers.

On the Congressional tickets the Democratic majority in Michigan reaches 10,000, nearly 7,000 more than on the State ticket.

The people of Dover, N. H., wanted something to be thankful for, so they turned out on Nov. 25th and elected a Democratic Mayor, the first in the history of the place.

THERE is considerable talk in the Con. Con. of abolishing the office of Commonwealth's Attorney, and letting the County Attorneys look after all criminal prosecutions.

The Chicago Herald speaks of the tall form of Colonel "Jeems" McKenzie "swaying in the breeze of an oratorical whirlwind." The Colonel is right there every time when it comes to such business.

The Lexington Leader says the Kentucky Republicans will nominate a ticket next year that will "sweep the State." "Talk's cheap," and the Leader does a good deal of blowing. Before the recent election the Leader thought the Republicans would carry three or four districts in this State.

The canvassers in the interest of the Tobacco Growers' Association begin their work to-day. They should do it well. Every grower in the county should be seen. Upon the results of this canvass depends largely their future prosperity. The unreasonable charges of greedy warehousemen and their profligate business methods are depriving the producer of the benefits of his labor; and the organization of a dangerous monopoly threatens him with still greater oppression and tribute. Will the farmers of Mason and the State of Kentucky idly submit to this extortion? Will they not assert their rights? The step taken is a legitimate one. This is their golden opportunity. Every tobacco grower in Mason County is interested in the present move to establish independent warehouses.

THE National Democrat sizes up Ex-Congressman Phil Thompson in his true light. It says:

"When Mr. Cleveland was President the Kentucky distillers urged the appointment of their Washington attorney, Ex-Representative Phil Thompson, to be Commissioner of Internal Revenue. It didn't strike the President that the distillers ought to select the Commissioner, and he appointed another man. President Cleveland also interfered with some legislation that Mr. Thompson secured the passage of in the interest of the Kentucky distillers. Mr. Thompson has recently expressed the opinion in an interview that it would be suicidal for the Democratic party to renominate Mr. Cleveland. The Washington Sentinel, whose editor failed to get a valuable appointment from President Cleveland, concurs fully in Mr. Thompson's opinion." Such talk as Thompson's will do Cleveland more good than harm—it will make him more popular than ever before.

At the present moment the proprietors of a prosperous manufactory in a neighboring city are desirous of moving to Maysville, and will do so if the city will donate $2,000 to pay for a lot and buildings and for the cost of making the change. They wish to move here because in Maysville they will have many advantages they do not possess where they are now located.

They are now employing from fifteen to twenty hands, but if they come here it is their intention to increase their force to twenty-five or thirty, and if they are given the $2,000 they guarantee to employ this number continuously for at least three years. And they offer the city a first lien on the plant (which will cost $6,000) as surety that they will perform their part of the contract.

Placing the average wages of these employees at $10 a week, and in the three years the factory would pay out from $35,000 to $40,000 in wages alone, most all of which would be spent among the business men of this city.

The factory is prosperous, its business is increasing daily, it would not come in competition with any industry now here, and if it is secured it means another permanent industry. It is such enterprises as this that we need.

Poor Fellows.

There is a man living in this city who was married in 1857, and since that date he has moved 57 times. Can Craddock beat that?—MAYSVILLE BULLETIN.

Yes; there are some here whose wives make them move about that often each day.—Paris Kentuckian.

Here and There.

Mrs. Dr. Wilson, of Covington, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Chas. B. Hill.

Frank and Will Byrne, druggists, of Clifton, O., are visiting their mother.

Mrs. Joseph S. Hunter, of Bourbon County, is visiting Mrs. Joseph Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Coulter have returned from Waxahatchie, Texas, where they spent several weeks with relatives.

Mrs. Mattie McCann, of Lexington, left for home this morning after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Baldwin.

Mrs. Florence Tolle Boyer, of Oak Forest, Pa., has returned home after a two-weeks' visit to relatives and friends here.

Miss Nanlene Tolle is visiting relatives near Flemingsburg. Miss Mollie Tyler is spending the week with friends at Rectortville.

Miss Mary Lee Wood, of Maysville, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. R. L. Mannen, of Greenup street.—Covington Commonwealth.

Mrs. Isola and Mrs. Buchignani, sister and daughter respectively of Mrs. A. Bona, left for their home in Lexington this morning accompanied by Mrs. Bona.

Two More Small Blazes.

The small fire Saturday at noon was followed by another early Sunday morning.

About 4 a. m. yesterday, Night-watchman Driscoll discovered a blaze in Oberstein's china store on Market street. The blaze was in the back part of the room on first floor, and was extinguished before much damage was done. The stock was insured in the North British and Mercantile, the Glens Fall and the Home, for about $1,000 altogether. It is not known how the fire started, but it was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. It makes the second blaze in the house within the past two or three months.

At half past ten o'clock last night, a small shed in rear of Miss Sue McDonald's residence on East Front street was found to be on fire. The blaze hadn't much of a start and was put out with a few buckets of water.

River News.

Due up to-night: Bostona for Pomeroy and Scotia for Pittsburg.

It is said the new Congo is proving one of the fastest boats in the Pittsburg trade.

The new Congo, the new Henry M. Stanley and the Sherley are due down this evening, and the Telegraph will pass down to-night.

Captain John B. Davis, the ex-Maysvillian who died at Rock Island, Ill., last week, was the commander of the War Eagle, City of Quincy, Josephine and many other steamers on the Ohio, Mississippi and tributaries before and since the war. He was also engaged in the ship chandlery business before the war in Cincinnati, the firm being Davis & Cook, his partner being Mr. Theo. Cook.

The Way to Deal with Monopoly.

Being threatened with the establishment of a tobacco warehouse trust, the tobacco growers of Kentucky have resorted by arranging for the establishment of warehouses of their own, to be conducted without regard to the schemes or desires of the warehousemen of Louisville and Cincinnati, who have hitherto enjoyed a practical monopoly of the tobacco warehousing business. This is the true and only effective way of dealing with actual or attempted monopoly. Fight it on its own ground, and fight it hard.—Philadelphia Record.

A Serious Charge.

Thomas Carr, aged seventeen, of Chester, was arrested Saturday on charge of breaking into a C. & O. freight car and stealing a lot of oysters, coffee and other goods. He gave bond in sum of $200 for his appearance before Mayor Dressell this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the examining trial will come off. It is reported he will implicate others in the offense, which was committed some days ago. Marshal Heflin and Deputy Stockdale worked the case up.

Bonds for Sale.

They bear interest at 6 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually—May 1st and Nov. 1st. Refer to James Barbour, President of Bank of Maysville, for information. MAYSVILLE WATER COMPANY.

Religious.

For Foreign Missions, the Christian Church in the United States wants 12 cents from each of its 750,000 members, or $100,000 by the first Lord's day in March, 1891. Kentucky has 80,000 members, and is asked for $10,000; they gave $4,412 last year.

Mr. John T. Parker, of the firm of Parker & Co., this city, has bought of T. F. Triplett, of Sharpsburg, the black horse Henry Clay, by Magic, dam by Indian Chief.

Dr. Hord, of Orangeburg, has bought the bay filly Ina G., by Post Boy, from Mr. Triplett, of Sharpsburg.

In Russia, which is the great horse country of Europe,—I think there are very likely more horses there than in all the rest of Europe,—they never put blinders on a horse and a shy horse is almost unheard of. Blinders were invented by an English nobleman to cover up the defect of a wall-eyed horse, and then they were found to be good places to put on the coats of arms of the nobility, and so they came into fashion, just like the fashion of wearing dead birds on ladies' bonnets, and the beautiful eyes of horses were covered up because the nobility cared more for their coats of arms than they did for their horses' eyes.—Exchange.

FIRST ONLY!

FIRST IN LOW PRICES.

FIRST IN QUALITIES.

FIRST IN THE INTERESTS OF THE PEOPLE.

We are the first in low prices because we have the advantage of getting quantity discounts, in addition to cash discounts, and give our customers the benefit of these.

We are first in qualities because we have the whole field of manufacturers to select from; we cull from the very best of these, and the world cannot surpass them. This makes us first hands to the people—we are no "middle man"—our customers get from us the benefits of the profits of the "middle man." We do not buy of jobbers. We know no middle condition. The "middle man" is a relic of the moss-covered past.

We are first in the interests of the people because our system, from which we never vary, of necessity works to their interest. Our unalterable rule is cash and one price. We treat all alike in respect to prices. We charge Mr. Smith, who has no Bank account, just the same for a pair of shoes that we charge Mr. Jones, the coupon clipper, for a similar pair. We do not burden the people with debts. We have no credit customers of the "good" class to saddle with percentage for delinquencies, making them carry our bad debts.

We have no shelf-worn goods, no "crabs" or "trash."

Our goods are new; we do not permit them to get old—our prices force them to go.

The cheapest, the newest, the best.

Come and see us; we will save you money.

WEATHER prophet Foster says: "The notable storm of the immediate future will be that due to leave the Pacific coast about the 4th of December, cross the great middle valley from the 5th to 7th and reach the Atlantic coast about the 8th. This will be a very fierce storm, and will be accompanied by a great variety of weather. As it moves eastward it will probably pass through the middle part of the United States and north of it will occur snow storms and blizzards with heavy rains in the Southern States. Very cold weather will occur in the extreme northwest."

At the council meeting last month the owners of property on the north side of Forest avenue were ordered to put down pavements. The city owns about one hundred feet on the street, but the Internal Improvement Committee hasn't taken a step yet towards carrying out the orders of council. And the Councilman who made the motion is a member of a firm who own a big lot on the street, and they haven't taken a step yet to comply with the order. Surely the city ought not delay paying in front of her public schools. The work ought to be done while the weather is favorable.

Did He Commit Suicide?

Captain Heflin has been investigating the case of Ed. Moran, whose body was found Friday in the river at Ripley, and is convinced the fellow committed suicide.

The last seen of Moran so far as has been learned was one night about two weeks ago, when he called at Clark's saloon on Front street. His face was bleeding from some bruises, and in reply to a question he said he had fallen and hurt himself. Before leaving he remarked that if he ever committed suicide he intended drowning himself. He had been drinking, and the opinion is that in a fit of despondency he ended his life by jumping in the river that night.

MINER'S MAXIMS

A good UNDERSTANDING is the foundation of knowledge.

A wise man is, therefore, known by his Shoes.

The men who buy their Shoes at MINER'S are all wise. They have cut their Wisdom Teeth, and having profited by experience, never think of buying Shoes elsewhere.

Once people bought Webster's Dictionary and thought that because it lay upon their parlor table that they would absorb knowledge without effort, much the same as we inhale the atmosphere.

Other people take a college course for the purpose of securing knowledge.

Now-a-days people who wish to be truly wise carefully read Miner's Maxims, and the nuggets of virgin truth there found widen their horoscope of ideas and they secure knowledge without price.

They also secure GOOD SHOES at a fair price and thereby improve their understanding.

WORK FOR CONGRESS

Important Measures Before
Both Branches,

BUT VERY FEW WILL BE PASSED

The Necessary Appropriation Bills Will First Be Considered, Followed by the Pension and Fortification Bills—The First Week Will Be Taken to Outline a Program.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The second session of the Fifty-first congress will begin at noon to-day. At precisely 12 o'clock Vice President Morton in the senate, and Speaker Reed in the house of representatives, will call those two bodies to order. The roll will be called and three new members will be sworn in—Whitlaw, in place of Walker, of Missouri; Hayes, the successor of Conger, of Iowa, and Pindar, who has been elected to the vacancy occasioned by the death of Miller, of New York. Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, will also have to be sworn in.

The congress has much important business before it, a very small proportion of which will likely be disposed of before its expiration at noon on the 4th of March. There are the necessary appropriation bills, without which the business of the government would be suspended, at least in part, and the re-appointment bill which has as yet received consideration in neither house, but which the Republicans in both houses have said must be passed at this session.

Then there are many measures of importance on the calendars which have passed one house and are therefore half through the legislative journey. The most important of these is the Federal election bill which passed the house at the first session, and which was resisted in the senate by the Democrats so firmly that it was necessary for the Republicans to agree to a postponement of its consideration in order to bring about the passage of the tariff bill and an adjournment of the first session.

There is also on the calendar of the senate the National bankruptcy bill which is being pushed by the representatives of the commercial convention; the bill to transfer the revenue marine service from the treasury to the navy department which was debated at some length during the first session, the bill to discontinue the coinage of the $1 and $3 gold pieces, and the Conger land bill. These measures have passed the house.

On the house calendar are the subsidy and the shipping bills which have passed the senate. A number of other measures of great importance are on the calendars of both houses, which have received final action in neither.

During the coming week action will be taken to outline as nearly as possible the work for the session in both houses. The Republicans in the senate are pledged to the passage of the Federal election bill; but it is a question in the minds of some whether it is possible to pass it against the obstructive tactics of the Democrats and then the question is raised whether there is any party necessity for its passage now that the elections for the Fifty-second congress are over. The Republican senators will probably hold a caucus during the week to determine what is to be done. There has as yet been no consultation of the Republican leaders on this point.

The first day of the session will be principally devoted to the receipt of the president's message, which will be read at length in each house. It is not unlikely that on the following day the house committee on appropriations will be ready to report one or more of the annual appropriation bills. The pension bill and the fortification bill will be the first to come up for consideration. What will be done to push the appropriation bills forward will be determined in caucus. The Republican caucus has also to determine upon a postmaster for the house, the office having been declared vacant at the close of the first session.

STRANGE COINCIDENCE.

A Would-Be Suicide Meets Her Runaway Husband in a Hospital.

New York, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Martha Losee, aged 18, attempted suicide on the station of the suburban elevated railroad at One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street yesterday evening by shooting herself in the left breast. The wound is considered dangerous, but the doctors have hopes of her recovery.

For a long time the girl refused to give her name as above, and said she was tired of life because she had married a man who proved to be a criminal and who had deserted her. By a strange coincidence her husband, Charles Losee, was at the hospital to which she had been taken, under treatment for an abscess. He was much affected when he recognized the bleeding girl as his wife.

Attacked by a Mad Bull.

WABASH, Ind., Dec. 1.—Saturday night, at the residence of John Wampler, west of the city, John Lynn, Jr., a well known young farmer, entered the yard, where a vicious bull was kept, and was attacked and thrown down by the ugly brute, which tore his clothing off and gored him sharply about the groin. But for the timely arrival of Mr. Wampler, who heard the victim's cries, Mr. Lynn would probably have been finished by the angry animal. As it was, he was quite seriously hurt.

Trains Hurled Into a Bay.

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 1.—Yesterday evening a Northern Pacific freight train from Portland escaped from the control of its crew through the air brakes giving out on the grade entering Tacoma, and colliding with another freight, both locomotives and a dozen cars were hurled into the bay. Engineer Decker and Fireman Horton, of the runaway train, were killed, two brakemen were fatally injured and one brakeman is missing.

Fortification Plans Stolen.

VIENNA, Dec. 1.—The Austrian government is much disturbed over the discovery that fifty plans of the fortifications of Cricau have been stolen. It is feared that the thief will dispose of them to Russia.
